CAUTION: To proceed in the federal court, you must ordinarily first exhaust (use up) your available state-court remedies on each ground on which you request action by the federal court. Also, if you fail to set forth all the grounds in this petition, you may be barred from presenting additional grounds at a later date.

GROUND ONE:

I was denied my sixth amendment right to counsel.

(a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

I elected to represent myself at my trial. Then on the second day of my trial I wanted to reclaim my right to counsel and have stand-by counsel take over full representation. On that day counsel said she needed a continuance until the next day to prepare. The judge would not grant the continuance. On the morning of the third day of my trial, stand-by counsel was ready and willing to take over full representation but the trial judge would not allow her to do so and ordered that I had to continue pro se.

(b) If you did not exhaust your state remedies on Ground One, explain why:

* The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 ("AEDPA") as contained in 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d) provides in part that:

- (1) A one-year period of limitation shall apply to an application for a writ of habeas corpus by a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court. The limitation period shall run from the latest of -
  - (A) the date on which the judgment became final by the conclusion of direct review or the expiration of the time for seeking such review;
  - (B) the date on which the impediment to filing an application created by State action in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States is removed, if the applicant was prevented from filing by such state action;
  - (C) the date on which the constitutional right asserted was initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if the right has been newly recognized by the Supreme Court and made retroactively applicable to cases on collateral review; or
  - (D) the date on which the factual predicate of the claim or claims presented could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence.

AO 241
(Rev. 10/07)

Page 16

- (2) The time during which a properly filed application for State post-conviction or other collateral review with respect to the pertinent judgment or claim is pending shall not be counted toward any period of limitation under this subsection.

Therefore, petitioner asks that the Court grant the following relief:

That a writ of habeas corpus be issued.
